In the event of rain the workshop will move inside to Room 101

This spud's for you...

Earth day in the garden, build your own potato tower! Come learn how to grow potatoes in small, urban spaces using vertical potato towers. Using affordable building materials and simple design, the towers allow any urban garden to grow a full harvest of potatoes. During the workshop we will build a tower for the Goodness Grows Garden and share design plans and growing tips for your home or community garden.
